Compliment to Judge Phister. Vanceburg Courier.

Hon. A. E. Cole, Circuit Judge being unable to attend our Court on account of sickness, Judge E. C. Phister was called by the unanimous voice of the bar to occupy the bench as special judge.

The bar of Lewis county prepared and signed the following call, which evinces Phister as their great confidence in his ability as a jurist :

VANCEBURG, KY., June 9, 1883.

Hon. E. C. Phister, Myaxville, Ky.—Dear Sir:

The members of the Lewis county bar request you to act as special judge in place of Hon.

A. E. Cole, who, we understand, is sick and unable to attend the June term of our Circuit Court:

Respectfully

the June term of our Ci Respectfully, A. D. Neal, b., T. B. Bullock, ok, Geo. M. Thomas, A. H. Parker, Geo. T. Haibert, Will. L. Fiten, V. H. Perkins,

This action upon the part of the bar is a well deserved compliment to Judge Phister, who, after four years of faithful and valuable service in Congress, has again assumed the practice of his pro-

A Millersburg Explanation of the Outrage Upon Rev. Elisha Green.

Millersburg Correspondent Carlisle Mercury. Last Friday while on his way to Woodford, Prof. Bristow, of the Female College gave a colored Baptist preacher—one Etisha Green— a muscular lecture on the subject of politeness, and a large collection of sympathetic brethren—John G. Craddock among the number-have taken the thing under advisement and think they had better fill all the land with lamentations diresome. The facts in the case are about as follows: Dr. Gould, Prof. Bristow and Joe Corrington were en route to Versailles with several of the young ladies, intending to give one of their unique entertainments. When they entered the car at Millersburg some of the young ladies could not find seats. Prof. Bristow asked "Bro." Green to get up, but he refused. Dr. Gould then requested him, but even his eloquence failed. The conductor was appealed to, but could offer no assistance. While beholding the pure cussedness of revelish-agreen and the "intowardness, of con-ductor Martin, Prof. Bristow became enraged and struck the revelishagreen with a hand-satchel. He would have struck him twice more, but was prevented. A buckle on the satchel struck revelishagreen's thumb and made it bleed and revelishagreen spread the blood from his thumb upon his face and made believe that he was forever "squashed." All of that bosh about J. W. Corrington attempting to draw a pistol is a lie cut from the whole cloth. The three gentlemen, so it is said, will be arrested for insisting upon women being respected, but that it will amount to anything no one

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

To be polite you must always pay attention to your elders' wholesome advice.

George Enis has re opened a meat store on Main street. Report says his meat is of su-perior quality. Aberdeeen is well supplied in the meat line.

They say when people become so inflated with themselves, that their glory is short-lived, as the inflation soon evaporates into minute nothingness.

Rumor says the belles and beaux are talking about organizing a dramatic club. Between musical clubs and dramatical clubs our town will soon become quite renowned.

Master Emery Edgington is the faithful and active carrier of the Commercial-Gazette and Enquirer. All orders for these papers given him will be promptly delivered at any address named.

Miss Lillie Cheesman arrived on the Morning Mail Saturday, accompanied by her handsome brother, Joe, who is an exceptional young man for his natural politeness of manners. They had a most delightful visit at Clifton.

Mr. Carey Beasley was seen last Sunday out buggy riding, accompanied by his lady-love, whose musical laugh fell on our ear like rip-pling water. We were convinced it was Mr. Carey Beasley and not Miss Carrie who could occasion such a merry laugh.

We are informed by a most reliable citizen that if we only have patience to wait, that the Aberdeen pike will soon be lined with street lights, making it the center of attraction. There is nothing like advertising works with a rapidity that equals electrical sparks.

The DAILY BULLETIN is almost vieing with the Cincinnati Equirer in its rapidly increasing circulation for its general news of the day and Aberdeen varieties. Soon as the BULLETIN carrier is espled there is a break-necked speed for that little, but inexhaustible BULLETIN.

A true gentleman is unmistakable, he ha sufficient self respect never to lower himself in his own estimation by any act or word which would be demeaning and deprive him from the appellation of a gentleman. He is always respectful in ladies' company and uses refined language.

When married gentlemen go off on a lark it is not surprising they succeed so well in palming themselves off as single gentlemen, when they can so readily adopt all the capti-vating mannerism of their single brothers. When such deception is practiced they are blamable for such comtemptible actions.

It is surprising how many dark eyed people there are in this town, and yet there are a variety of dark-eyes tinged with various shades and expressions. There is the merry blue black eyes and the snake-like, glittering black eyes and last, but not least, the deeply, darkly, beautifully black eyes. So you see we have more than one dark-eyed gentleman in Aberdeen. There is too much rivalry here for any show of supremacy. or any show of supremacy

The Carlisle Mercury says: The sermon delivered by Rev. H. M. Scudder to pupils of the Garth Female College, of Paris, is spoken of as being a very able one indeed.

Says the Carlisla Mercury: There can speedful progress.

In a sleepy little village not a hundred miles from Maysville there happened to be two reporters, one a vivacious blonde, her eyes Heaven's own azure, the other was a brunette of the darkest dye, his eyes were of erebus hue. And his lordship's feathers were ruffled with envy when this lovely blonde stepped in the field of journalism, and with the flashing of steel was ready for a race in the fight of opposition of this monopoly of reportership. And because she won the race with her steel point by wounding the vanity of the black-eyed reporter, he forgot his chiv-

Setting Tobacco Plants.

The following is extracted from an a dress delivered some time ago before the experience in the culture and handling Boots, Shoes. Hats and Caps. of tobacco. It is timely and will prove of value to planters in general.

Now, then, as I have spent more time with phosphates than I expected to, and as there are several important questions to be debated by the club, I will condense the balance of my essay as much as possible. We will consider the tobacco ground in first-class order, rendered so by good manure-no phosphates, as we are bound to have this crop burn-your plants all ready to set by the fifteenth day of June. Any time between that and the first day of July is a good time to set. I have known good crops to be their high personal appreciation of Judge raised set on the tenth day of July. Last year some farmers set as late as the 20th, out that is entirely too late. Plants should be set after a rain, when the ground is damp. If by grub or other causes your plants are destroyed, I think it best to se-lect the strongest plants from your bed and replace them at once, putting the ground in order with water, and nursing them if they need it until they take root. In this way your field will be more uniform. If you wait for rain, the plants first set will have so much start that your field is apt to look uneven. After your plants get a good start, and before the grass and weeds take root, or make their appearance, go through your tobacco with a cultivator, follow it up with hoes and loosen the earth around the plants. Do this as often as possible—the oftener the better—as long as you can get through with your horse and cultivator without FRESH ROLLS AND CAKES EVERY DAY injuring your tobacco by breaking or bruising it.

Watch early for worms and suckers. Be vigilant in your efforts to find them. Make up your mind that every worm you find and destroy is worth five cents to you, and try to see how much you can earn a day finding them. Never let a sucker grow over four inches long for after that they begin to draw nourishment mension MAYSVILLE, KY. from the plant. Follow this up day after day. If you can not keep busy, go through sgain with your hoe. At the same time keep looking for worms and suckers. Never let your plants run up to buds and blossom before topping. If you do, the buds and blossoms will draw the nourishment from the plants and prevent them from spreading, as they will if you top them before they bad. In the meantime, and all the while, look for worms STOVES, GRATES, TINWARE, and suckers.

Never cut your tobacco before it is ripe, because it will cure down thin and slazy, and will not contain substance enough to stand the manipulation which the trade subject tobacco to nowadays. Besides, you will not have the weight, hence you will not realize as much money for your crop. When you are sure your tobacco is ripe, get your sheds and wagons ready. You can always tell when it is fit to cut, as small blotches begin to make their appearance. A WHISKER dye must be convenient to use, easy to apply, impossible to rub off, elegant in appearance, and cheap in price. Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers unites in itself all of these merits.
